The most accurate way to be measured is to wear a pair of jeans that fit you well and be barefoot. When you respond with measurements, it would be helpful to include some front, side, and back pictures of you wearing the jeans.

1. The shirt waist is the smallest part of your waist and the pant waist is the actual waist-line where you wear your pants.
2. The seat, thigh, knee, and calf are the fullest point when standing straight.
3. The inseam is from the crotch point to the floor.
4. The out-seam and waist to garter are from the top of the pant waist.
5. The garter is directly below the knee cap.
6. The saddle is from the pant waist in front, between the legs, to the pant waist in back.
7. The front rise is from the pant waist in front to the crotch seam.
